

THIRTY LIVES SNUFFED OUT BY ANGRY WATERS WHEN CAR FERRY SUNK

Heroic Rescuers Struggling Against Great Odds Save Many From Death

CATASTROPHE WILL PROBABLY REMAIN MYSTERY

Wireless Message Gave First News of Boat's Con- dition and Brought Assistance---Operator Goes Down and Two of the Rescuers Also Drown.

Ludington, Mich., Sept. 10.—Thirty lives were lost yesterday when the Pere Marquette car ferry No. 18, bound from Ludington to Milwaukee, went to the bottom of Lake Michigan half way across the lake in 300 or 400 feet of water. The dead include Captain Peter Kilty of Ludington, S. F. Sezebanek of Chicago, purser and wireless operator, whose signals of distress brought assistance to the sinking steamer, and two members of the crew of car ferry No. 17, who lost their lives in an effort to rescue the crew of No. 18.

The steamship company issued a list of 33 names of survivors of the wreck, all members of the crew and most of whom were brought here last night on No. 17.

Eight bodies were recovered, six being brought here on car ferry No. 17, and two being taken to Milwaukee on car ferry No. 20.

The bodies brought here are those of Captain Kilty, Purser Sezebanek, Steward Mack, W. H. Cummins, N. L. Bertrand and Mrs. Turner.

One of the bodies taken to Milwaukee was that of Mate Joseph Brezinski.

The story of the loss of the ferry constitutes the most tragic and thrilling chapter yet written in the history of the Lake Michigan marine.

Leaving Ludington at 11:30 Thursday night with a fair, but stiff wind, and 29 loaded cars on deck, the ferry made good weather for five hours on its course to Milwaukee.

At 4:30 word was sent to Captain Peter Kilty that the boat was rapidly making water and that the pumps were unable to keep even with the inflow.

With full confidence in the stability and seaworthiness of his craft, the veteran car ferry navigator headed his ship with all speed toward Saeboygan on the Wisconsin side.

The steamer's pumps were worked to their fullest capacity and all the experienced mariners were resorted to but the terrible fact was evident that the boat was gradually sinking.

An effort was made to run a number of cars overboard and thus lighten the load and gain a few precious minutes.

With great difficulty nine railroad cars were dropped off the stern, but this gave the vessel only temporary relief, for the ship was doomed. Notwithstanding this apparent fact and in the hope of saving both crew and cargo, the captain crowded his ship to the utmost limit, hoping to reach shoal water, but the effort was futile.

At 7:30 Friday morning the time came when the boat's buoyancy was no longer sufficient to sustain it. Suddenly the great black bow of the ship rose in the air and the stern settled swiftly toward the bottom.

The horrified onlookers on steamer No. 17, which had just arrived in response to the distress signal, stood for a moment speechless and petrified. Agonizing cries for help arose above the roar of the sea. In a twinkling 27 lives went out and 60 strong men were precipitated into a death trap, as cruel as it was hopeless. Drawn by a tremendous suction, a score of men could be seen speeding toward the awful vortex of the sinking steamer's revolving wheels, which sealed their doom.

Then began the rescue. Lowering one of her lifeboats, containing four sailors, the crew of No. 17 began a work of humanity which marks many of the number as heroes of the highest rank. No sooner had the tiny lifeboat touched the water than it was hurled with terrific force against the side of the steel steamer and crushed into a lifeless mass.

Two of the sailors were rescued by those on board, while the other two, Joseph Peterson and R. Jacobson, a scrubber, immediately sank and drowned. After this incident, it is said that certain members of the crew were loath to enter the small boats, but others of greater courage quickly manned another boat, which was successfully launched. This boat in charge of Duncan Milligan of Ludington, did heroic service and in less than an hour picked up 14 survivors, who were floating about, clinging to bits of wreckage.

Then another lifeboat was manned and joined in the work of rescue. It was a race against time, and in the face of great danger more than 30 were saved.

Meanwhile the tug A. A. C. Tessier of Milwaukee, car ferry Pere Marquette No. 6 and a tug from Sheboygan, towing the Sheboygan life saving crew, arrived on the scene. They instituted a thorough search for survivors and bodies and succeeded in picking up seven of the former and eight of the latter.

The cause of the disaster is and may always remain an unexplained mystery. The men who knew what the trouble was are all dead and among the survivors there are only two theories and speculations. The best conclusion seems to be that the car ferry's water after compartment filled through an open or broken headlight, which was followed at the last minute by a bursting of bulkheads.

Chief Engineer Ross Leedham and his first assistant, Charles Rosenkrantz, died at their posts in the engine room.

Very few survivors escaped injury from flying debris and the wonder is that all were not drowned.

SOCIETY

Formed in London to Drive Out Foreign Crooks and Waiters from Hotels and Cafes.

London, Sept. 10.—In an effort to drive out the thousands of foreigners who hold all the best jobs in London hotels and cafes, the British Waiters, Cooks and Carvers' Society was formally launched today. There are only a handful of Englishmen employed in London hotels and cafes, the following being the reason assigned by M. Gustave, manager of the Savoy Hotel:

"There is something about Englishmen and Americans that makes them bad waiters. They are unable to give the patrons the idea that it is a pleasure to serve them. They are awkward, heavy-footed and their fingers are all thumbs. They know, as a rule, only their own language. The continental waiter, especially the Swiss and Frenchman, is more deft, he simulates a desire to please, and if disappointed in his tip his insults are more subtle. Although he is not a linguist, my opinion is that the negro, if properly trained, is the ideal waiter."

PREPARE PLANS FOR CAMPAIGN

Pursuant to call, a well attended meeting of the Democratic Central Committee was held in the rooms of the Licking Democratic Club on Saturday afternoon. Not only was the committee well represented, but there was also a goodly number of the candidates and Democrats generally on hand.

Mr. James J. Hill, the chairman of the committee, called the meeting to order, and in the absence of the secretary, Mr. Arthur Bollwine, Mr. Ed. McGonagle acted as secretary until Mr. Bollwine's arrival. Mr. McGonagle called the roll of the members of the committee, after which the chairman stated that the meeting was held for the purpose of making plans for organization in the county, and spoke at some length along that line, his suggestions seeming to strike the right chord. Remarks of like nature were also made by Congressman W. A. Ashbrook, James Rutledge, C. L. V. Holtz, Sheriff Frank Slabaugh and others. It was the general opinion of all that the outlook for Democratic victory was never brighter than it is at this time, and that if Democrats put their shoulders to the wheel the entire Democratic ticket from top to bottom would be elected.

STANDS BEFORE GREATER JURY

Chicago, Sept. 10.—In an editorial today the Chicago Tribune calls on the people of Illinois to continue their fight against legislative graft. The editorial says that Brown's discharge yesterday at the hands of a jury does not necessarily prove him guiltless. It says he stands before a greater jury in a greater court, the court of public opinion.

The editorial demands that the good citizenship of the state be not disheartened by this first defeat or setback but keep on until politics and politicians are clean.

Chicago, Sept. 10.—I am going to bid my time and then the people and the newspapers will see. This was the reply of Lee O'Neill Brown to a question as to whether he would sue Roosevelt for libel on account of statements made by the latter regarding Illinois legislators' bribery.

Brown said he was going home to fight for re-election and had no time to consider Roosevelt or the Tribune and could not say what he might do about them later.

HAPPY GROOM

OF TWO MONTHS AGO, WHO MARRIED OPERA SINGER, IS A BROKEN MAN.

Bob Chandler Returns to New York, While Wife is Spending His Fortune With Friends.

New York, Sept. 10.—With his income of $20,000 per year transferred to a woman who married him who now offers him $250 a year out of it, Bob Chandler is today a broken man. Over in Paris his bride of two months, Lina Cavallerie, the opera singer, is traveling with her old set and keeping the papers he signed before their wedding, transferring the bulk of his fortune to her.

His friends are aghast at the outcome of the affair, and those who have talked to Chandler since his return fear his mind will give way. He announced himself as the happiest man in the world a short two months ago, when he was married after a courtship that made even Broadway take notice.

Many a loving couple think they are two souls with but a single thought when they haven't even that.

From his point of view, a bird in the bush is worth two in the hand.

FAVOR ELEVATION OF TRACKS OVER STREET INTERSECTIONS

Councilman Price's revival of the subway station at the last meeting of the council has struck a responsive chord among South Newark residents. It will be recalled that when this question was previously brought up several months ago, the city engineer prepared plans for a subway at South Second street and gave the estimated cost.

It is understood from a member of the South Side Business Men's Association, that what the residents of South Newark want is the elevation of the tracks and tracks over the street intersections so that several highways can be constructed, thus distributing the traffic, so that one section will not be benighted to the detriment of others. It has been suggested that five different subways could then be constructed, including Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth and Sixth streets. South First street, being eliminated because of the impracticability of getting sufficient track elevation and natural grade at that point to be of any advantage whatever.

AVIATOR

Made a Remarkable Flight in London Which Was Witnessed by Two Million People.

London, Sept. 10.—Two million people today went wild with enthusiasm over the marvelous flight of Gustav Willys, an aviator. He flew from the Crystal Palace to St. Paul's Cathedral, twice circled the dome of the church and then crossed to the very heart of the city before returning to the Crystal Palace.

The flight was 15 miles and the daring lay in the fact that his entire course offered no place to alight had his engine gone wrong. He crossed and re-crossed the Thames river.

During his flight traffic was completely suspended and the police rendered powerless by the crowd in the street.

LOST HIS SUIT CASE.

Columbus, Sept. 10.—J. H. Koontz, a farmer living near Vanata, Licking county, has asked the Columbus police to locate his dress suit case, which he says he had with him Thursday. He set the suit case down some place in the city and went off and forgot it. When reporting the loss he was unable to say where he set the suit case down.

RETURN MANY INDICTMENTS

Chicago, Sept. 10.—The grand jury today returned indictments against 100 persons who were charged with conspiracy to defraud the Chicago & North Western Railway Company. The indictments were returned against 100 persons who were charged with conspiracy to defraud the Chicago & North Western Railway Company.

MATURED PLANS FOR MEMORIAL

Pittsburgh, Sept. 10.—Several thousand people today attended the celebration of Perry's victory anniversary. There were addresses by Governor Hammon and other prominent men and a large parade and fireworks. The most important event was the meeting of the Perry Memorial commission representing seven states. They matured their plans for building the memorial.

GREAT THORNGREETED ROOSEVELT TODAY WHEN PASSING THROUGH CITY

Starts to Deliver Short Address Which Was Cut Short by Train Leaving Station

GREETER YOUNGSTERS WHO FOLLOWED CAR

Denounced Violence and Mob Rule in Columbus Speech at Goodale Park and Favors Arbitration of the Columbus Car Strike.

In spite of the fact that the Roosevelt special had its schedule changed shortly after noon, thus causing many hundreds of persons great disappointment at not getting a glimpse of the ex-president, yet there were fully 3000 people waiting at the Pennsylvania station at 1:30 Saturday afternoon when the special pulled into the station.

Colonel Roosevelt, with four of the members of his party, was standing on the rear platform of the car Republic as the train pulled in. He was attired in clothing of dark material, and wore his usual style of comfortable, low collar, with a neat black four-in-hand tie. He acknowledged the cheers of the throng by bowing and waving his hands in greeting. The crowd went wild with enthusiastic cheering, and the ex-president signaled for quiet. The colonel then addressed the crowd, saying:

"My friends, it is a great pleasure for me to be with you. I will have but a moment, but in that moment I want to impress upon you the importance of law and order and the rule of justice as between man and man. The first essential of good government is law and order. But we must have justice meted out in all things, else we as a nation, as well as individuals, must suffer. I am here to appeal to you in the behalf of good government, in behalf of law, order and justice. Good luck."

The colonel was interrupted by a burst of applause in the midst of his remarks, but with upraised hands he waited until his voice could be heard and then continued. The train started just as Mr. Roosevelt was uttering the last few words, at the conclusion of which he flung his arms upward, shouted "Good luck," and stood with his hands clasped above his head in the representation of a hearty hand-shake, and in that characteristic pose, with the Roosevelt smile as a lasting memory, he was still standing when the train made the bend to the bridge across the Licking river.

At East Main street a large crowd had congregated and as the train passed through East Newark, Col. Roosevelt smiled and bowed and waved his greetings to those on either side.

The special train bearing the ex-president to New York from his cross-country trip was composed of four cars, a baggage coach and three Pullmans. It stopped here only about three and a half minutes, and fully a minute and a half of that time was lost in quieting the cheering crowd.

Perhaps the feature of the Roosevelt visit to Newark was observed by a few as the train took its departure. As the train pulled out the space between the rear platform and the crowd was filled by scrambling, pushing boys and girls, who shouted and waved at the ex-president. Mr. Roosevelt, with his usual regard for the little folks, bowed and waved at them. He also gave them special attention as the train came into the station.

The crowd gathered at the Pennsylvania station in an exceedingly short time. Many people took their positions along the track a full half hour before the train was scheduled to arrive. Of the crowd which is estimated at any place from 3000 to 5000, a great many were country people in town for their Saturday shopping.

The colonel's healthy color and enthusiastic manner indicates that his trip into the heart of Regular Republicanism has done him no more harm than his famous African hunting expedition.

ROOSEVELT TAKES STAND IN FAVOR OF ARBITRATION IN COLUMBUS CAR STRIKE

Columbus, Sept. 10.—Colonel Roosevelt arrived here about noon and was met by a cheering mass of people both at the depot and along the streets. He was rushed by auto to Goodale Park, where he plunged at once into a denunciation of violence and mob rule.

He said in part: "I have of course known of the deplorable condition of affairs which have continued here for weeks. I did not like to come here, but I like to dodge still less. In addition to law and order I shall speak on justice. It is the duty of good citizens to see that absolute justice is done."

"To get justice however, we must first establish law and order. I can not undertake to handle the facts in detail, for reputable people who have written me about this trouble flatly contradict one another. The first duty of all authorities high and low is to put a stop to disorder and punish lawlessness. No excuse can be accepted for failure to do this."

He went on to say that the people's duty does not stop when law and order is established. They should exert themselves to secure facts and deal out justice.

He flayed the mutiny of the police, the strikers' lawyers defending men arrested for acts of violence and said the authorities should bring sufficient pressure to bear to bring about a settlement.

His stand in favor of arbitration sent the crowd of 26,000 wild. It was clean cut and straight from the shoulder. He said to dismiss men for joining a union is an outrage, that to intimidate men into joining a union was equally wrong and that it is outrageous for an employer to discriminate against unions.

He said if the present arbitration law is inadequate it should be made adequate.

The ex-president declared that if he were a working man he would join a union. He said the union has the same right to existence as the corporation, but that both should be made to observe the law. Col. Roosevelt's reference to the attorneys defending the men arrested for mob violence brought loud applause. He urged the union strikers not to permit their attorneys to appear for the violators, because the fact of their appearance would lend color to the belief that the strikers were in sympathy with the violators. He declared the union man should emphatically frown upon violence and seek to maintain order in the city.

Col. Roosevelt was accompanied here by Representative Longworth and others. He shook Mayor Marshall by the hand and addressed part of his remarks to him. Dr. Gladden, Dr. Thompson and others were on the speaker's stand.

MEETING WITH ROSS COX WAS SOMEWHAT COOL

Cincinnati Sept. 10.—By meeting Ross Cox and his two aids Hynicka and Herman yesterday, Roosevelt made a distinction between them and Lorimer of Illinois, nevertheless the meeting was somewhat cool.

"How do you do," said Roosevelt. Cox remarked that they had met before, and Roosevelt asked where. "In Washington," replied Cox. The boss got his legs mixed up like a hapshul schoolboy in backing away.

Hynicka's presentation was followed by a large gap of silence. Hynicka finally remarked that it had been a fine day, whereupon Roosevelt agreed with him. The distinction between Cox and Lorimer has the politicians here guessing. Longworth is depending on the Cox machine for re-election.

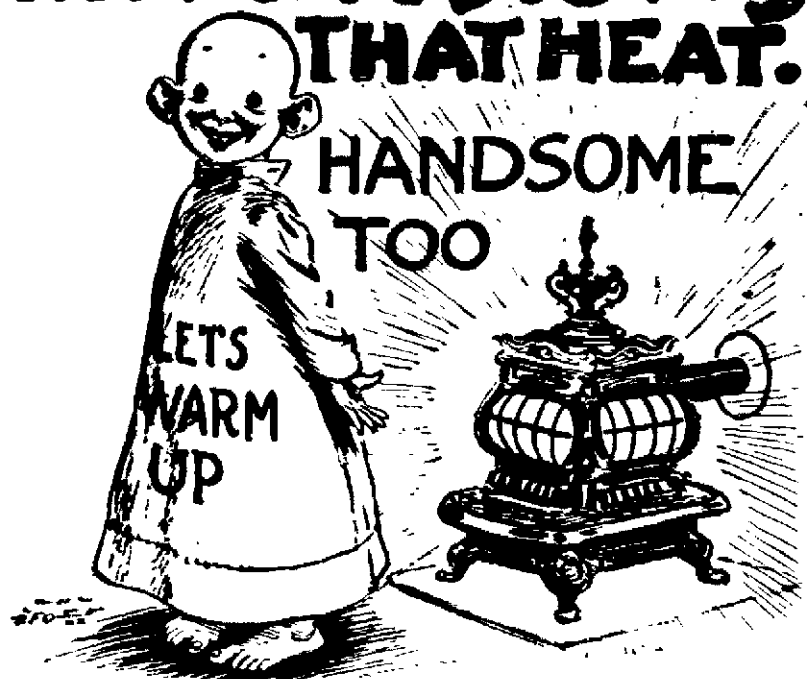

As large a crowd was on hand to bid Roosevelt goodbye today as welcomed him yesterday. Before departing Roosevelt expressed himself as well pleased with the entertainment Cincinnati offered and said he especially enjoyed the visit to the automobile museum. He signed numerous autographs before he left the depot. He was alone on the platform of his car as the train pulled out and waved his hat as the crowd shouted good-bye.

Lima 6, Portsmouth 6, called in ninth darkness.

(By Dwight Walker.)
Lancaster, Sept. 10.—By hitting Lancaster hard Friday, Lancaster won the second game of the series from Newark by the score of 7 to 3. The feature of the game was the heavy hitting of the Lanks, and at opportune times.

Star Beer was on the mound for Lancaster and he was as wild as a fresh keg just tapped. He had no control, but at that got away with his game. His only heavy to first caught several Molders off when they had a chance to score. Beer walked eight men and hit one and allowed but six hits and a couple of them were scratches of the rank order.

Big Rube Lambert occupied the hot for the Molders and he was hit freely. Lancaster had a good batting day and although they clouted him often some slow base running kept him down the score. Big Charley Riehl hit one to left field that looked like over the fence and just grazed the boards on the top round. The ball took a bound back and Charley only got two sacks. He drove in one of the runs and made a count himself, beside catching a new game.

The Molders scored one of their runs in the first frame when Beer walked. Nally after getting two strikes on him without a ball, Nally stole second and Anderson also walked. Brown hit one through short, but a quick return of the sphere held Nally at third.

Anderson, who had just walked, got a little frisky on first and Beer caught him between the sacks. A run down took place and after a lively chase Bobby was tagged. However while all this was going on Nally, but Hank was Beer also walked O'Day, but Hank was a little slow on his feet and he too was caught off the bag, making the third out.

The Lanks got men on the cushions several times but could not score until the fifth. The big show started with Lefty Cain who binged one past O'Day and Riehl worked the hit and run game and the ball went to deep left, Cain taking third and Charley second on the peg to catch Lefty. Otto Blake missed three peaches and then took a drink. Lambert writing something on the rubber and when Heinie came on the rubber gave him free transportation, hitting the sacks. Bill Thomas hit a teaser at O'Day that allowed Bill a life on first and Cain to score. Conley at short was asleep for the time being and when Huff hit a hot one at him, he threw the ball to first, allowing Charley to score. Curran made the third out.

In the seventh Beer passed Conley and a sacrifice and a clout by Nally and the score. On an error by Anderson and two hits Lancaster scored again, and in the eighth a real beating was enjoyed which netted four runs and clinched the contest. With two men on bases Heinie was walked again to get at Bill Thomas, but this time Bill fooled them and smacked the pill over first, scoring a couple. A wild pitch and a sacrifice fly scored two more. The Molders made one in the ninth, but they could not hit Sam when he got them over and they lost the game. The score:

Club	Runs	Hits	Errors
Lancaster	7	10	0
Newark	3	10	1
Chillicothe	5	10	0
Marion	4	10	0
Lima	4	10	0
Portsmouth	2	10	0

LOOSE PLAYING COST CONTEST

Behind the Screen

Catcher Merritt has joined the local team and he worked for the first time yesterday. He did a good job of back-stopping yesterday but he failed to hit during the game.

Shannon is getting his hits regularly and by being placed in right field is getting a much needed rest. His eye may improve too, and yesterday he secured two hits, one of them a two-bagger.

Nally has no fears of Riehl's throwing arm and yesterday stole two bases on the big catcher.

Joe Lewis is losing confidence and that flag is getting pretty far away. In the effort to strengthen the losing Diggers he is tampering with the Chillicothe players, according to the Advertiser of that city, which says: "Manager Joe Lewis of the Diggers tampered with local players to this extent on Thursday. He wanted Grandie, Purcell and Cooperider to go to Portsmouth with his team to help him win that series. Purcell was anxious to go along but the pitchers put it up to the management who put their foot down hard. No one cares especially to see Portsmouth win the pennant, but the club owners do not propose to bat them in that fashion. It will have to be on the square or no at all."

There seems to be some question about Swank's eligibility to play in this league, the Lancaster Gazette says. It contains the following item about the fender who joined Newark a few days ago: "Umpire Mason received a telegram from Secretary Joe Carr stating that Swank, the right fielder for the Molders should not be allowed to participate in any more games until he received an order from President Fiere. There seems to be some question about Swank's playing and he will be out of the game until further orders."

The Lanks and the Molders wind up their season's engagements today when they put on a doubleheader for the benefit of the masses of Lancaster and incidentally to play the schedule out as required. Tomorrow the O'Day gang travels to Chillicothe to take on the infants for a few days.

Joe Lewis expects to have easy sailing with the Molders when they land in that city, according to the Chillicothe Advertiser, which says: "Joe Lewis said last night: 'If you are ahead of Newark when they leave here you will not finish in the hole, for we can almost guarantee to take five straight from them in their series at Marion.'"

Heinie Peliz says he once pitched two or three games in the National. "All you need is a noodle and control," says Heinie. "Give me these essentials and I can beat any club in the country. Red Donahoe and Al Orth were in the big show for 14 years and neither one had the sign of a curve. It's putting them where the batters can't murder them is what wins the games."

The Hermanns will hook up with the C. M. A. team tomorrow afternoon for the championship of the city. Each team has won and lost to the other and tomorrow's game will be the final contest. The game will be called at 2:30 o'clock.

FIGHT PICTURES MAY BE SHOWN IN NEWARK
The Jeffries-Johnson fight pictures may soon be shown in Newark and without interference on the part of Mayor Ankele. An owner of the fight films has written the Auditorium management, asking to show the pictures and a date may be arranged soon.

Mayor Ankele was seen by an Advocate reporter and he said that the pictures could be shown so far as he was concerned.

"I don't consider them different from any other pictures, and if Jeff-

MANAGERS

PICK ALL STARS

There has been a lot of argument among fans as to who is the best man in his position in the Ohio State league and no doubt each particular fan has his own opinions on the subject and the choices would probably vary more or less in each instance. It would probably be of interest to all the bugs, however, to read a selection of a manager in the race who has seen the players on their home lot and on the road as well.

Below are two selections, one made by Manager Joe Lewis of Marion, who is the oldest manager in the Ohio State league, and the other by Tom Kibler of the Chillicothe team.

In making his selection each leader says that to pick a team of this kind, one must select the start individual players and that the organization selected might not work smoothly to- gether and that if he were to select a team for a long pennant race he might make a change or two which would help some in the long run. The teams chosen are the logical choices, how- ever, as far as individual work is con- cerned and are chosen for this reason.

By Joe Lewis:
Catcher—Textor, Lima.
Pitcher—Baxter, Marion.
First base—Johnstone, Marion.
Second base—Childs, Portsmouth.
Third base—Kibler, Chillicothe.
Shortstop—Purtell, Chillicothe.
Left field—Breen, Portsmouth.
Center field—Meehan, Marion.
Right field—Potts, Chillicothe.

WOMAN'S WORLD

The first annual reunion of the descendants of Richard R. Davidson was held at Eggle Park, September 1, 1910. A short history of the Davidsons was read. Richard Davidson was born in New York State May 23, 1822, was married four times and the father of thirteen children. He died in Licking county January 2, 1848.

The committee appointed for the next reunion was as follows: William Davidson, Zedekiah Davidson and T. M. Arnold.

Those present from a distance were Mrs. F. L. Schaefer of Missouri, Mrs. John Simpson of Baltimore, Mr. William Davidson and son Charles and daughter Martha of Columbus, Mr. C. W. Hall of Portsmouth. Besides these other relatives and friends of the Davidsons of this place were also present. At the appointed hour all did justice to well filled tables. A pleasant afternoon was spent in a social conversation. All left in the evening for their homes, hoping to be present at the next annual reunion.

Thursday was the seventy sixth anniversary of the birthday of Mr. W. D. Gilbert, one of Newark's best known and most highly respected citizens. As Mr. Gilbert was walking along the street late in the afternoon he chanced to meet young Miss Alta Conch, daughter of Mr. Riley Conch, who is a member of Mr. Gilbert's Sunday school class. The young lady seemed very glad to meet him, and said that he was requested to come to her home at four o'clock, but gave no reason. Mr. Gilbert repaired to the Conch home at the appointed time, where he found seven members of his large Sunday school class, being the Misses Eva Owens, Alta Conch, Edith Bowers, Edith Fleming, and...

Little Problems of The Home.

Should This Teacher Resign?

A woman writes, "I am a school teacher and dearly love my work. But I am teaching in a state far distant from my native town, and my father and mother are left at home alone, and they are getting old. My brother, who is a successful business man, not married, wants me to give up my position and go home and look after my parents. He offers to pay me what I am making now. Do you think I ought to do it?"

It's hard for old notions to die, isn't it? The first thought yet, and the common thought is, that a woman can give up her work for home cares, or that she should plan her business with home duties as the first consideration. A clever woman advertisement-writer in a rather small Pennsylvania town, but whose work had won notice far beyond the limits of her home city, was offered a fine position in New York. But her father and mother did not want her to leave them, and so she refused the offer. How often does a man do this? Business with him has the right of way, and the world approves.

It is the same with this teacher. She is asked to give up her work to go home, regardless of the fact that she has spent years preparing for her profession, that she dearly loves it, and that she must provide for her own old age. The brother offers to pay her now what she is making. But if he married, would he continue to maintain her for the rest of her life? Many questions enter into this teacher's problem.

It would seem a cruel and an inhuman thing to desert her parents when they are old and need her. And the brother is doing a generous thing to offer to recompense her as he does. Few brothers would do it. He is one among a thousand. Her plain duty seems to be to go home, and, perhaps, compensations are in store for her of which she does not dream.

For one thing, nothing will equal the joy of making her parents happy

by the excellent dance program rendered by the Wright orchestra of Columbus. Refreshments were served during the evening in the balcony.

Among those present were Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Sedgwick, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Miller, chaplains, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Owens, Misses Anna Sprague, Edythe Hall, Helen Chase, Irene Henthorpe, Edith Middleton, Mary Morath, Ruth Wintermute, Hannah Sullivan, Louise Elliott, Alta Belle O'Leary, Leontine Moore, Catherine Sedgwick, Ruth Hatch, Mary Nichols, Lorena Miller, Marguerite Platto, Jones, Rose Schenberger, Addie Jones, Bernice Hater, Mary Follett, Helen Jones, Hazel McMullen, Margory Collins, Ann Davis, Grace Wilson, Elizabeth Sohn, Ethel Brilhart, Mary Mahoin, Josephine Hillard, Sarah Seymour, Marie Forable of Cincinnati, Angie Weaver of Columbus, Agnes Walsh of Dayton, Leona Welsh of Dayton, Messrs. Mrs. G. M. Robey of West Locust street is entertaining with a prettily appointed luncheon this afternoon, honoring Miss Winifred Fulton. The color scheme selected is yellow, this being carried out in the canopies shading the audities and in the flowers. The guests are: Miss Fulton, Mrs. J. T. Harbottle, Mrs. Nelson Pierson, Mrs. Frank Ogilby, Mrs. H. B. Anderson, Misses Mayne Pigg and Lulu Starr.

The dance season was begun on Friday evening when the Alpha chapter of the Alpha Pi fraternity danced in Assembly hall.

The members and a great number of their friends were present to enjoy an evening which was enhanced by the excellent dance program rendered by the Wright orchestra of Columbus. Refreshments were served during the evening in the balcony.

Among those present were Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Sedgwick, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Miller, chaplains, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. GUY-DUSH. Mr. David Guy, the well known R. and O. blacksmith, and Mrs. Margaret Dush were married Friday noon at the United Brethren parsonage by the Rev. T. C. Biddle. After returning from a few days of visiting at Canton, Ohio, they will be at home on Oakwood avenue to receive the congratulations of their many friends.

A very pretty birthday party was given Miss Olive Loughman at her home on East Main street, by her parents on Friday afternoon, the event celebrating the eightieth anniversary. Games were played on the lawn during the afternoon and at five o'clock a delicious supper was served.

The guests were Misses Nellie Bolin, Alberta Emmons, Lola Davis, Louise Swan, Doris Loughman, Irene Barrick, Elsie Hentze, Martha Martin, Dorothy Craig, Mildred Baker, Clara-belle Colville, and Mildred Martin. Messrs. Isaac Emmons, Harold Swan, Lester Loughman, John Floyd, Loren Simpson, Dale Colville and Merle Martin.

Miss Olive and Essie, Smith left today for Columbus where they will be guests at a week end house party given by Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Smith.

The L. C. B. A. will give a picnic at Rigel Park Thursday afternoon. All members are urged to be present with well filled baskets.

MANNERS-RONEY. Rev. F. E. Vernon united in marriage Mr. George Mannors and Miss Iva Roney at the parsonage of the church at 8 o'clock Saturday morning. They were accompanied by Miss Lorena Roney. Mr. and Mrs. Roney will make their home in Newark.

The "Jolly U. B.'s" entertained with a hayride Friday evening. They were received into the home of P. E. Shannon, about eight miles east of the city, where the evening was spent and refreshments were served.

Those enjoying the ride were the Misses Ruth Johnson, Anna Gardner, Blanche Douray, Virnie Shannon, Catherine Miller, Ethel Biddle, Lulu Workman, Ruth Biddle, Pearl Shannon, and Messrs. Charles Gardner, Lehr Biddle, Lee Shannon, Fred Haynes, Marcellus McWilliams, Foster Robinson and Harold Shannon.

BETTER THAN SPANKING. Spanking does not cure children of bed-wetting. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box W, Notre Dame, Ind., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment with full instructions. Send no money, but write her today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child, the chances are it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.

Literary longings too frequently consist merely of long hair and long faces.

GO TO THE RESCUE.
Don't Wait Till It's Too Late—Follow the Example of a Newark Citizen.
Rescue the aching back. If it keeps on aching, trouble comes. Backache is kidney ache. If you neglect the kidneys' warning, Look out for urinary trouble—diabetes.
This Newark citizen will show you how to go to the rescue.
Charles E. Walton, 74 South Second street, Newark, O., says: "I can vouch for the merits of Doan's Kidney Pills, as I gave them a thorough test. My kidneys were inactive for years and caused a dull ache across the small of my back. There was much lameness through my loins and the constant standing which my work requires aggravated the trouble. After various remedies had failed to help me, I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they brought such great relief that I heartily endorse them. I will gladly confirm my former testimonial at this time."
For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.
Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

GRACEFUL HOUSE DRESS.
An artistic house gown was cleverly put together from one of the dainty embroidered robes now on sale in all shops at greatly reduced prices. Perfect draping is the important feature, using the embroidered parts, where they show to best advantage. These robes come in all the delicate summer shades, and make ideal house gowns, as well as pretty warm weather evening frocks.

$3.50 RECIPE CURES WEAK KIDNEYS, FREE
Relieves Urinary and Kidney Troubles, Backache, Straining, Swelling, Etc.
Stops Pain in the Bladder, Kidneys and Backs.
Wouldn't it be nice within a week or so to learn to say goodbye forever to the scalding, dribbling, straining, or too frequent passage of urine, the forehead and the back-of-the-head aches, the stiffness and pains in the back, the growing muscle weakness, spots before the eyes, yellow skin, sluggish bowels, swollen eyelids or ankles, leg cramps, unnatural short breath, sleeplessness and the despondency?
I have a recipe for these troubles that you can depend on, and if you want to make a quick recovery, you ought to write and get a copy of it. Many a doctor would charge you $250 just for writing this prescription, but I have it and will be glad to send it to you entirely free. Just drop me a line like this: Mr. A. E. Robinson, R. 1229 Lock Building, Detroit, Mich., and I will send it by return mail in a plain envelope. As you will see when you get it, this recipe contains only pure, harmless remedies, but it has great healing and pain-conquering power.
It will quickly slow its power once you use it, so I think you had better see what it is without delay. I will send you a copy free—you can use it and cure yourself at home.
I don't let your money burn a hole in your pocket, I follow my best.

Consistency is a jewel we always admire in other people.

NEW CORN CURE A REAL MARVEL
Guaranteed and Absolutely Painless.
A corn cure that is painless and that will really do the work has finally been discovered. Heretofore, the poor sufferer from corns has been pestered with "drawing" salves and plasters that swell the corns, and has had finally to gouge out his corn and inflame upon himself still greater pain. With Hall's Painless Corn Cure all pain ceases on the first application, and then finally the corn comes right off easily and painlessly. You don't have to dig it out and run the risk of drawing blood, making your corns still more sore or getting blood poison.
Hall's Painless Corn Cure is easier to use than any other; it takes a few seconds to apply it. It is guaranteed absolutely in every case. You must be satisfied, or back goes your money.
